

THE ACCESSORIES

Mix and match

Choose beautifully detailed pieces that work well together, rather than match exactly. Add character with a few individual or heritage items, such as a vintage clock or a patterned cushion.

In the bedroom, layer quality bedlinen with woven woollen and knitted cotton throws and cushions. Keep the colour palette tonal, and patterns small and subtle for a restful effect.

While the overall look is calm and considered, opt for a few well-chosen decorative accessories, perhaps with a textural pattern or beautiful detailing, to add character.

Vintage objects such as distressed wooden furniture give a heritage feel. A ladder is an unusual way to store linens and make a focal point in the bathroom.

THE FABRICS

Tactile materials

Add warmth and interest with natural fibres such as linen, cotton and wool. Opt for softly textured throws and blankets, chunky knits, and subtle prints and patterns.

In the living room, weathered boards and wood flooring provide a beautifully natural backdrop, softened with a tactile chenille rug. Richer tones in wicker and wooden furniture add warmth.

THE COLOURS Soft neutral tones

Create a calm and considered mood with simple, understated colours such as off-white, beige and taupe, accented by shades of blue.

THE FURNITURE Light woods

Celebrate the beauty of wood with natural grained textures or clean painted finishes. Rustic pieces such as stools, ladders, benches and crates work well here.

For upholstery, choose a soft, neutral colour, accessorised with cushions in tonal shades of blue, lilac and grey. Keep accessories classic with china and enamel in clean white.

Try to use strong colour sparingly, in a pendant light for example. Metal, ceramic and marble provide a textural contrast against the natural wood.

Create a relaxed feel by mixing and matching chairs and benches in different styles and finishes. Use coloured, textured linens against classic white china.
